

Bounce Into Fun! Giant Bouncy Castles Take Over the Science Centre For a Limited Time

EDMONTON, AB – April 23, 2025 – The Science Centre is about to get a whole lot bouncier! For a limited time, the Feature Exhibition Hall is being transformed into the JUMPOLOGY Zone, a colourful, larger-than-life inflatable wonderland packed with giant bouncy castles and games!

Running from Saturday, April 26 to Monday, May 19, this limited-time experience invites kids (and the young at heart) to jump, leap, and bounce through various whimsical inflatable structures. Whether you are conquering an obstacle course, sliding down slides, or bouncing in the Superman House, this adventure is all about kinetic energy — and maximum fun.

“We are so excited to offer something a little unexpected,” says Constance Scarlett, President & CEO, TELUS World of Science – Edmonton. “These inflatables are not only a blast to play on, but a great way to get families moving, laughing, and making memories together.”

Dates: April 26 until May 19

Location: Feature Exhibition Hall

Admission: Regular Science Centre General Admission plus an additional ticket

- $5.95 per jumper (child or adult)

Age Recommendation: Great for all ages (3 years and up) — with toddler-friendly zones too

Don't miss your chance to bounce, slide, and play — JUMPOLOGY Zone is here for a short time!
